The Iron Hills of Nelson. NELSON COUNTY, July 9, 1866.

To the Editors of the Richmond Dispatch:

my astonishment when I say I saw a bed of, as it were, solid iron some one hundred and fifty feet wide, and extending, as far as I was shown a hill out of which cropped was shown a find out of which clopped various "boulders" of the iron rock, varying in size from ten pounds to several tons weight. This ore has been tested, and yields ninety-two per cent. of pure and of the best quality of iron. This hill is in a the best quality of iron. This hill is in a dense forest of primeval growth, with any quantity of limestone, and a sufficiency of lee and Bradford, Vt. water-power at the spot for any size furnace which may be desired. This is not all. There is also any quantity of sandstone and marble near by; and last, though not least, there is a nice little valley extending from half a mile above the best of S. T. - 1860 - X. iron down to the James River and Ka iron down to the James River and Kanawha canal, a distance of one mile and a balf only. A railroad can be readily and conveniently constructed with but little expense down this valley, which seems to purpose of conveying this iron to market. their health.

are two other hills on his farm containing iron ore, one of which yields sixty-three and the other fifty-four per cent. Here, then, is untold wealth inviting capital to bring it into use.

I will also add that there is an iron mountain, though of small size, in this | &c., and are the symptoms of that horrid disease, county, which has been lately leased by an enterprising citizen of Augusta county which assumes a thousand shapes, and points to-(the Hon. John Marshall McCue), which I wards a miserable life and premature decay. The learn yields ninety-five per cent, of pure iron. This mine is about eight miles from the Orange and Alexandria railroad, and about sixteen or eighteen miles from the fective. Among these were James River and Kanawha canal. I learn that Mr. McCue had his horse shod out of the ore of this mountain at a common blacksmith shop.

I have given you what I believe to be facts. You may make such comments as you think they may deserve. Q IN A CORNER.
